

Open Position: Director of Advancement

Posting Date: October 17, 2024

Salary Range: $72,000 – $78,000

Hours: Full time

Location: Hybrid (if preferred), Holland office

Job Summary: Resilience invites an innovative and experienced Director of Advancement to spearhead our fundraising initiatives. As a key member of our leadership team, you will play a vital role in advancing our mission by creating and executing strategies that align charitable giving, marketing, and communications with the organization's goals. You will nurture relationships with current and potential donors, cultivate corporate partnerships, and lead efforts to tell our story through public relations and marketing initiatives. Your leadership will help shape the agency's future, contributing to our vision and growth.

Ideal candidate: We're looking for a passionate candidate with a track record of success in securing major gifts, corporate sponsorships, and individual donors. You will play a critical role in planning fundraising events and cultivating strong, relationship-based partnerships. If you are a lifelong learner, stay ahead of fundraising trends, and have a knack for innovative donor engagement strategies, this is the opportunity for you. Your exceptional relational skills and commitment to engaging diverse stakeholders will help advance our mission and create meaningful change.

We believe that a wide range of perspectives and experiences strengthens our work and helps us better serve our community. We encourage candidates with nontraditional career paths or experiences, as well as those who belong to historically marginalized groups, to apply.

To view the full job description, click here.

To apply, send resume and cover letter to:

Megan Hennessey, Executive Director

MeganH@ResilienceMI.org

The Resilience mission is to respond to, reduce, and prevent domestic and sexual violence in Ottawa and Allegan counties. Resilience is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

www.ResilienceMI.org